Penny-A-Pack To Cure Inadequate Class Space

For nine years, students have been using buildings such as those pictured above for classrooms. Supposedly temporary quarters for the overflow of students following World War II, they are indicative of the need for new classroom buildings at the University.

Other crowded conditions exist in Moseley Hall where students must walk through one classroom to get into another, as partitioning of rooms has been the only available solution to providing more class space.

Professors have cubicles smaller than most clothes closets in which to interview their students.

$150 Million Bill

What to do about it? The state legislature has placed before Ohio's constituents the choice of creating a fund of some $75 million for use in educational buildings for state universities, public schools in financially distressed areas, and state offices.

Another $75 million will be used in mental penal, correctional, and welfare institutions.

Cigarette Tax

A "penny-a-pack" is the medium through which this bond issue would be financed. A one-cent levy for each pack of cigarettes sold in Ohio would finance the total $150 million bill. No other taxes would be placed on Ohio residents.

If this issue fails, no funds will be available until at least 1957. And, even with its passage, no construction would begin for probably four years. So the importance of this issue is immediate.

Ohio's voters will have to vote Yes on proposal No. 1 on the Nov. 8 ballot to insure Bowling Green as well as the other state universities of some relief from the present unhealthy, crowded conditions.

Committee Organized

A student committee has been organized to carry the brunt of work informing the parents of BG students who live in the state of Ohio as to the importance of this issue to the future of their University. Specific projects of the student group will be explained in Friday's issue of the B-G News. Some 25 students, faculty, and administrative persons will attend a state-wide bond rally in Columbus Friday concerning the issue and plans for the promotion of its passage.

Two Former Students Awarded Scholarships

Two Bowling Green graduates have won $2,000 scholarships at the University of Pittsburgh for the current academic year, and have entered the graduate school of social work there.

Carolyn Slater, '54 and Joyce Ludecker, '55 completed their pre-professional social work training at Bowling Green, majoring in sociology. Both women are specializing in child welfare.

The club is sponsored by the YWCA and YMCA organizations. Howard is also the YMCA representative.

Goals For Fraternal Groups Outlined In McDonald Letter

Increased wholesomeness of fraternities and sororities, expansion of membership, and a strengthening of academic standards for fraternity and sorority pledging, were outlined by Pres. Ralph W. McDonald in a letter to Dr. Elden T. Smith, director of student life and services. Dr. Smith, co-adviser with Dean Arch B. Conklin to Interfraternity Council, read the letter to IFC at its meeting last Wednesday.

Three Goals

The three goals as outlined are: (1) That there are and continue to be, on this campus the finest, strongest, most wholesome, and most constructive fraternities and sororities possible.

(2) That the benefits of affiliation with these fraternities and sororities be extended to the largest possible number of students in whatever class levels are included for fraternity and sorority membership. If fraternities and sororities include sophomores, juniors, and seniors, they should include a substantial majority of students in these three classes.

(3) That the fraternities and sororities support and strengthen academic standards, instead of weakening them by imposing upon their rushers, pledges, and new members the kind of activities and programs that lower their grades.

"Your Leadership"

President McDonald stated, "Since these issues are of the utmost importance to the University as well as to the fraternities, I shall appreciate your taking over the leadership in a cooperative endeavor to work out solutions that will be entirely satisfactory and acceptable both to the University and to the responsible leadership of the fraternities. I believe in the leadership and the membership of our fraternities and sororities with all my heart and soul, and I know that under your wise guidance and leadership all of these issues will be settled to the great advantage of everyone concerned." He added that, "I am completely confident that our fraternity leaders can and will handle this situation to the entire satisfaction of the University, provided we give them the necessary encouragement to do this."

Five Possible Programs

At the meeting Dr. Smith also read a memorandum which he had prepared in conjunction with Dean Conklin, suggesting five possible programs that the Council might consider in attempting to achieve the three goals.

They are: (1) A cooperative campaign during the current semester to inform freshmen about

Mansfield, Sandusky BG Branches Open; Elect Officers For Year

The new Mansfield Branch of Bowling Green State University, directed by W. L. Miller, began its scholastic program Sept. 26. Twenty four full-time students and 15 part-time students have been enrolled.

Designed especially for prospective elementary teachers unable for financial or other reasons to take teacher training on a college campus, the Mansfield Branch gives such persons living within commuting distance the opportunity to receive this training.

At the end of two years, those who have successfully completed the program will be granted the cadet certificate for teaching in elementary schools. The program is set up so that after its completion a student may go directly into teaching or may continue working for his degree in education at a university.

Among the Bowling Green faculty who will participate in the educational program are Dr. Everett C. Myers, associate professor of biology, and Wayne S. Huffman, associate professor of history.

Other courses offered will be taught by members of the Mansfield high school staff. At their meeting last week the 22 members of the Second Year Class of the Sandusky Branch of Bowling Green State University elected their class officers.

George Lehrer, Huron, was re-elected president. The other officers include Mrs. Richard King, Vermillion, vice-president; Mrs. John LaFene, Sandusky, secretary; Miss Charlene Brown, Berlin Heights, treasurer; Mrs. Clayton Bailey, Sandusky, reporter. Miss Catherine Bowersox, faculty adviser, will serve as class adviser.

In Our Opinion

Plans For Action

The attitude taken by President McDonald and the advisers of Interfraternity Council toward the Greek situation on campus is significant. It applies equally to sororities although the letters were addressed to IFC.

The basic motivation behind the action is to enable the largest number of our students to belong to these groups, and without any future harm to their scholastic averages.

We are a state university, and as such, spending a large majority of the social budget of the University for the promulgation of fraternity and sorority events. This money comes from all students, regardless or not of affiliation with Greek groups, through payment of their activity card fees, and as such, the benefits received from these social functions should be enjoyed by all the students.

The suggestions offered by Dean Conklin and Dr. Smith are geared to one idea: that the Greek organizations must pull together for pledges and for the furtherance of the ideals of fraternities and sororities. Without cooperation between these groups as well as within them, some groups will fail. That one group gain a large enough number of pledges to exist is as important as that your own group gets its quota. The strengthening of all such groups individually will strengthen the system collectively.

Last year, a suggestion was presented to lower the scholastic pledging requirement, which the fraternities turned away, and the sororities accepted. The proposals now given to the fraternities allows them to make headway into this problem. What the IFC committees studying the various suggestions resolve may have a great deal of import in the future of the Greek system at Bowling Green.

card to any husband or wife whose mate is a student at the University. The holder will have all the card privileges of a student, from purchasing an athletic ticket coupon book, to free admission at the opera presentation later this month.

In fact, this has been the policy of the Business Office for years, so a little prior investigation or questioning by our married students might have saved much confusion and unnecessary ill will.

Ac Cards For Spouses

Married students for some time have been irked when they found that buying their spouse's tickets for University events presented a problem. General admission tickets for athletic events prohibited the wife or husband from sitting in the student section with the mate. And Artist Series or University Play tickets are practically free to students but bear a $1 fee from outsiders.

To these married persons we report that the business office is able to sell an activity

Cars Need Pool-- Few Spaces; DoDo Does Deeds, JC Doesn't

By BRAD GREENBERG

"Park your car, mister?" That expression will not be heard at Bowling Green for some time with parking spaces scarcer than a left-handed fly swatter.

Latest figures show that some 800 students have already registered cars and less than 600 marked parking spaces exist. It's not all one-sided, though as 500 faculty and administration persons have cars for about 350 spaces.

Another 150 parking spaces are available to students, however, if you count the area behind the Chemistry Bldg. which is open to student parking, plus any number of cars which can park around the Graphic Arts and Industrial Arts buildings during classes out there.

For the faculty, plans are brewing where their illegal parking will be handled by a system, perhaps similar to the Student Court.

The persons responsible are working on ways to gain more parking spaces, but it is a matter of time. Primarily, a physical problem, students and faculty alike might go dutch and take turns on driving to the campus, one person taking two or three others one week, and reversing it the next.

"SICSIS sex it and Do Do does it" was a chant at the football game Saturday night created by a group of high-spirited Rodgers Quad men. The new secret organization is engaged in a little friendly competition with the older, official mystical group.

So long as the rivalry is keyed to creating more spirit among all University students, praise goes to the Do Do group. The more spirit aligns, the better, but neither group should get carried away and start opposing the other. With or without sanction, the freshmen are doing their part for school spirit.

We'll have a little feature on SICSIS if and when our photos can find them. Our picture men were up until 3 a.m. Saturday morning with no luck, but the night raiders still managed to have their slogans up by game time.

Fraternity Goals

 the fraternity system. (2) An effort by individual fraternities to promote the fraternity system as well as their own group. (3) A cooperative effort to develop a rushing system which will assist all groups in obtaining their full quota of pledges. (4) The development of a set of standards for pledging which will permit a broader selection of pledges. (5) The development of a program within each fraternity for improving pledge grades by a reconsideration of the entire training program.

In their memorandum Dr. Smith and Dean Conklin wrote that President McDonald "has by words and actions demonstrated his confidence in the potential of the fraternity system. We feel that the Interfraternity Council should undertake a program of study and subsequent action which will demonstrate the sincere desire of the fraternities to work toward the fulfillment of the stated goals."

Robert Smith, IFC president, appointed a committee to study the second goal of the administration. He also appointed a committee to organize several speaker's committees composed of men from various fraternities, who will design a program to inform freshman men about the various phases of fraternity living.

Cuts, Classes, Dates Not For Danforth Grad

BY MARVIN MEGISON

A classic statement around every college campus is, "Wouldn't college life be great if you didn't have to go to classes and study each day?"

But the situation is almost always the same; the classes and lessons are still there. The situation is almost always the same, but not in the case of Betsey Barker.

Betsy Barker goes to Bowling Green and lives in Prout Hall. The one thing that distinguishes Betsey from other students is the fact that she is a Danforth Graduate. And being such, participates in all campus religious activities instead of attending classes.

MISS BARKER

Betsey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Barker and attended high school in Fresno, Calif. Upon graduating from high school she enrolled at the University of Redlands, Redlands, Calif.

In 1955, Betsey was graduated with a bachelor of arts degree. Her major was psychology and her minor religion. She was also one of 21 girls in the United States to be selected by the Danforth Foundation for Danforth graduate work.

The Danforth Foundation, of which the graduate work is only a section, was originally set up by Mr. Danforth, president of a cereal firm. The foundation's ideals are uniting higher education with Christian principles.

The Danforth Graduates are selected from colleges and universities throughout the U.S., who are active campus activities. They are trained for five weeks at Camp Miniwanka, Mich., in counseling, recreation, worship, and basic theology. Upon the completion of this training they are assigned to 21 different schools.

They must be assigned to at least a thousand miles from home "to insure our growth as well as to provide a channel of growth for the campus," Betsey says. It is a ten-month program. A $1,600 fellowship and travel expense is given to each girl for the year's finances.

Betsey said her job is to "work in any place on campus that the need is greatest." The largest part of her work is centered around all campus religious activities. Working through the Student Activities Office, Betsey has participated in UCF, LSA, and Newman Club. As to all of this Betsey remarks, "I really think it's wonderful. Almost every student dreams of college life without classes, and here I am, a very lucky person participating in it. The only thing is I signed a contract when I first accepted the program which stated in one of the clauses that I couldn't have too much personal relationship with dating and going out. And gosh, this is a long year."

OPhiA To Meet

The initial OPhiA meeting this semester is tomorrow night, Oct. 12, in Studio B, Practical Arts Bldg. Janice Kelly stated, "The fraternity will be rushing during October with bids coming out late in the month."

BG Defense Holds Carroll Scoreless; Tally In Each Quarter To Win Third

By BILL COOPER

The Falcons won their third game of the season Saturday night as they defeated John Carroll after four previous winless engagements, 30-0, scoring in each period to the delight of a crowd of 4,400 on Dad's Day.

Coach Doyt Perry employed the platoon substituting system to advantage as the Falcons completely outclassed a previously untested aggregation from Carroll. Perry substituted a complete unit at the start of each quarter, unusual in college ranks these days.

Score Two On Safety

BG picked up two points in the initial stanza as the Blue Streaks' Torrelli was caught in the end zone by tackle Fred Koch. The Falcons had moved to the John Carroll three-yard line after having a first and ten on the eleven. They moved the ball to the three on four tries before the Blue Streaks took over on downs.

The Falcons took just seven plays in the second quarter to crash the goal line. The drive started on their own 44, with Larry Kent and Floyd Lennox hammering away yardage. With a BG fourth and five on the six, Lennox took a pitchout from the quarterback and scooted the left end for the tally. Jay Knierim kicked his fourth straight extra point of the year and the Falcons led, 9-0.

The second touchdown was set up by a 18-yard run by BG quarterback Don Nehlen. He scampered to the eight before he lost his footing and fell, but two plays later Vic DeOrio swept left end for the last five yards and another BG score. Jack Hecker kicked the

Second Tetanus Shots Slated For Footballers

Football players are to receive their second tetanus this week, according to Dr. Dorothy Chamberlin, physician at the University Hospital. The players received their first shot, of the permanent type, Aug. 31, when they reported for their physical examinations prior to football practice.

Dr. Chamberlin also stated that approximately 50 students have not had their smallpox vaccinations or their reactions read.

Basketball players are now having their physical examinations, said Dr. Robert Boyle, also of the hospital staff.

A flurry of injuries recently from athletics have not been more serious than cuts, bruises, and a broken nose.

Giroux, Rowe Give Vital Experience To Falcon Backs

Two veteran fullbacks are among Doyt Perry's 12 returning lettermen. Jack Giroux and Ben Rowe are the players that will be counted on to lend experience to a youthful Falcon backfield.

Giroux Only A Junior

Giroux has another year of eligibility remaining, while Rowe graduates in June. Both have scored this season while alternating the fullback duties. Giroux hit paydirt for Bowling Green's first score in the Western Michigan rout. Rowe carried the pigskin 32 yards into the end zone with an intercepted Defiance aerial. In the first three Falcon games Giroux has eaten up 100 yards in 20 carries and Rowe has garnered 26 yards in five tries.

Giroux received honorable mention on the 1954 Coaches' All-Mid American Conference team. Jack hails from Toledo Waite High School where he was a three-year letterman under football coach Lester Binkley. He is six feet tall and weighs 200 pounds.

Rowe Toledo Product

Ben Rowe is also a Toledo product. He graduated from DeVilbiss where he was an outstanding guard. It was not until his sophomore year in college that he made the conversion to fullback. Ben was fourth leading ball-carrier on last year's team, totting the ball 107 pards. He tallied both his touchdowns versus Western Michigan. Ben is also a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He is in ROTC and has a major in accounting.

Frosh Gridders Lack Linemen

After a week and a half of team practice, frosh football coach Forrest Creason reported that the junior Falcon squad has been cut from 110 try-outs to the present 70 man squad.

Creason and his assistants, handicapped with injuries and poor turnout of linemen, divided the new collegiate gridders into only four squads.

John Valentine, center from Circleville, and Dick McVay, guard from Washington, Pa., were added to the injury list last week.

The frosh team had its first scrimmage with the varsity last Tuesday, Oct. 4. Creason remarked that Don Cole, halfback from Barberton, was outstanding on defense. He seemed to be making tackles all over the field, Creason said.

Harrier Squad Finishes Third

Bowling Green's cross country team opened its season Saturday, at the Michigan AAU meet at Detroit's Warren Hills Golf Course, finishing third behind Michigan State and Michigan Normal. State had 16 points to Normal's 48 and BG's 56. Western Michigan was also represented, but did not finish the required five men over the rugged four-mile course.

Jack Mortland was the first Falcon finisher, placing 21st, just in front of teammates Bob DeLaRonde and Fred Price. However, there were a great number of unattached runners in front of this Falcon trio and in the team scoring Mortland was eighth, DeLaRonde ninth and Price tenth. Also running for the Falcons were Jerry Webb, Dan Duricy, Larry Trask and Stan Brown.

The Falcons open their home season this afternoon at 4:15 against Albion and Ohio Wesleyan. Both teams defeated BG by close scores in dual meets last year.

extra point and with four minutes remaining in the half, the Falcons took a commanding 16-0 lead.

The Falcons picked up a TD in each of the last two quarters, as Perry continued to use the platoon system. Near the end of the third stanza, Carlos Jackson scored his first touchdown of the season as he galloped 13 yards with the aid of good blocking. Knierim kicked his fifth straight point of the year to give BG a 23-0 lead.

Score On Long Drive

An 83-yard drive in the fourth quarter gave the Falcons their last tally. It took them six plays to cross the goal line, with Ben Rowe picking up the TD on a 3-yard plunge. Hecker kicked his second PAT of the game. This ended the scoring for the Falcons.

The first Sadie Hawkins dance on campus was held in 1939 by Delhi Fraternity, now Alpha Tau Omega. Two hundred fifty couples danced to the music of a 12-piece band from Defiance. Spring dresses and suits were the attire for the evening.

In the next few years, dog patch costumes became the traditional garb; and in 1942 a Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner were elected. Prizes were also given for the most unusual costumes.

The all-campus election for Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner will be held tomorrow in the Nest from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Activity cards are needed to vote.

Li'l Abner hopefuls are Richard Jewett, Delta Tau Delta; James Miller, Delta Upsilon; Daniel Henning, Kappa Sigma; Tom Conway, Phi Delta Theta; William Park, Phi Kappa Psi; Ferrel Frazier, Phi Kappa Tau; Ron Schaf-

Last year the student body elected Barb Gruner and Dale Price as Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner. Sigma Chi won the prize for the men's organization having the greatest percentage of beards among its members.

This year will mark the thirteenth Sadie Hawkins Week sponsored by ATO.

'55 Squad Picks Year's Father

The football squad selected Mr. Hecker and Jim Hopple presented the trophy.

Saturday's program for the dads included a dinner at the Commons where Pres. Ralph W. McDonald welcomed them to the University. After the dinner they went to a special-seating section at the game.

Many other fraternities had special dinners honoring the visiting dads.

Two Groups Plan Their Work Activities

All money they earn will be donated to the speech department to buy speech and hearing therapy equipment. Workers will charge the minimum wage rate paid by the University of 85 cents an hour. Beginning about 9:30 in the morning, they will work until about 3:30 in the afternoon.

Why do more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette?

Because only Viceroy gives you 20,000 filter traps in every filter tip, made from a pure natural substance found in delicious fruits and other edibles!

1. Yes, only Viceroy has this filter composed of 20,000 tiny filter traps. You cannot obtain the same filtering action in any other cigarette.
2. The Viceroy filter wasn't just whipped up and rushed to market to meet the new and skyrocketing demand for filtered cigarettes. Viceroy pioneered. Started research more than 20 years ago to create the pure and perfect filter.
3. Smokers en masse report that filtered Viceroy's have a finer flavor even than cigarettes without filters. Rich, satisfying, yet pleasantly mild.
4. Viceroy draws so easily that you wouldn't know, without looking, that it even had a filter tip... and Viceroy's cost only a penny or two more than cigarettes without filters!

That's why more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette... that's why VICEROY is the largest-selling filter cigarette in the world!
